

235 metres of walls have been repaired or rebuilt making for safer public access both for visitors and relatives

---

Highly unstable and collapsing walls presented a real danger to the public

Rebuilt and pointed with traditional lime mortar.

This wall end offered an opportunity for something different and fun for young children to discover.

The Smallcombe Mouse was carved in Bath stone by our mason.

